Storey Square Summer Concert Series Update

May 28, 2020

With Memorial Day marking the unofficial start of summer, we would normally be preparing right now for the first concert of the Storey Square Summer Concert Series. This year, the novel Coronavirus has presented us with a myriad of challenges, but, as you all know, we have met those challenges while continue to care for our friends, neighbors and family.

Continuing to keep the health and safety of our community and our staff as our foremost priority, we are canceling the first group of concerts of the series – at least through mid-July.

We remain committed to being active in our community and will continue to monitor the situation as we look forward to a possible resumption of the concert series later in the summer.

We want to thank our longstanding partners in bringing the concerts to the community each and every year – the Redevelopment Authority of the City of Uniontown and the City of Uniontown for their continued support.

And, we want to thank the Fayette County community and our hospital staff for your continued support of our community engagements, including Storey Square.

We hope to see you there later in the summer!
